A Cultural College

If Juniata has seemed to place an emphasis upon values that are practical and vocational, it has never been with any intention of discrediting the cultural phases of education. The very first catalogue of the College outlined a Collegiate Course in addition to the Normal English Course. The first college degree granted was the Bachelor of Arts, and for twenty-three years this was the only college degree that was granted. Even with the growing demand for special curricula the number of students now receiving the arts degree and the science degree is about equal.

Our vocational preparation has been given in a cultural environment and by teachers who themselves recognize the significance of cultural values. To the students there have been made available additional courses and extra-curricular opportunities which tend to enrich their program and their ultimate educational resources. This is even more definitely provided for them in the plans for the new curriculum.

For many years the College has offered to competent students in any curriculum the opportunity to join the a cappella choir under Professor Rowland, or the symphony orchestra developed by Professor Gilbert and carried forward now by Mr. and Mrs. Jones. It is worthy of note in this connection that Dr. Norman J. Brumbaugh gave much personal support to the initiation of the orchestra. Other members of the faculty have also lent their efforts to the development of music and the more definitely cultural phases of our college life. Miss McCrimmon of our French department has in alternate years been offering a course in the history of art, which sometimes has met in the evenings in order that it may be available to a larger group.

The President Speaks . . .

An effort has been put forth also to transform the lyceum course into a series of cultural opportunities in the offerings of an artist series. In February of this year we were able to bring to the campus for two days Bruce Simonds of Yale. He gave us not only an evening performance of unusual character but two lectures illustrating certain phases of music; as well as an informal recital and a limited amount of individual auditions. The presence of Doctor Simonds on the campus was a much appreciated contribution toward the creation of the fine atmosphere which we covet for the College. More recently the Altoona Civic Symphony Orchestra was here with Jacques Abram, pianist, as guest performer.

It has long been the custom of the seniors to give a Shakespeare play on Class Day, so that the recent performance of Twelfth Night by the Hedgerow Players was an event that brought college interest in the dramatist to a focus. Under Doctor Binkley's direction of performance and stage setting the semester plays of the Masquers have also attained an unusual degree of excellence.

An art exhibit was arranged in the library by Miss Evans and Miss Harbaugh in December, and Miss Evans gave an interesting description of the more important pictures of the fine loan collection which was assembled not only from New York but from some of the homes of interested faculty and friends in Huntingdon. We have also had on exhibition fine book collections from time to time, and the Library has of course been an increasing factor in cultural growth on College Hill.

On the architectural side we do not have much of which to boast, yet not all our buildings are devoid of artistic interest. The Library and the Stone Church were designed by Edward L. Tilton, a noted New York architect, and the Cloister represents a form of Pennsylvania German Colonial architecture for which G. Edwin Brumbaugh is responsible.

It will now be evident to our friends why we have had such an earnest desire for the promised music building and why we have appealed to them to make possible at least the much-needed auditorium. This we hope will not only furnish a suitable environment for artistic performances, but present an additional element of beauty in the campus setting.

To the extent that we can culture souls who love the true, the beautiful, and the good, we shall attain unto an ideal never absent from College Hill since the days when the great soul of David Emmert gave up his life dream of art to bring more of beauty into the lives of young people in the "little school" on College Hill.

What Has Happened to the Curriculum?

New Program Designed to Integrate Work of College; Studies of Freshman Year to Provide Cultural Background

By DR. HAROLD C. BINKLEY*

No one, I suppose, expects a college to clean house fall and spring like a good housewife. And no matter how good a housekeeper you may be, when you have lived in one place for close to twenty years, you find when you come to move that in odd corners, attic and cellar, you have collected a number of things which you had forgotten all about.

It seems to have been something like that with our curriculum at Juniata. About 1919, as history relates, the curriculum was dusted off and rearranged. Since then we have been growing—growing well and wisely, as our graduates year after year can testify. But twenty years is a long time to grow without stopping to take one's measure, and at the beginning of this present year President Ellis appointed a small committee to continue the work which for the past three or four years had concerned a much larger Curriculum Committee. The President wanted a survey, an evaluation, and perhaps—if it was needed—a realignment of the elements which contributed to our success. The past five years of financial stringency were safely over, and the College could push out into a promising future.

The committee, headed by Dr. Calvert N. Ellis of the philosophy department, included Dr. Homer C. Will from biology and the writer of this article. For three months we had a fascinating and arduous job, going through the past and examining the present. We made the survey. We found a great many causes for pride in the achievement of Juniata through her curriculum. But we also began to hope that by a reordering of effort, by a new shaping of objectives, the College could meet even more effectively the constantly changing needs of its students.

Our growing enrollment has made increasing demands upon the College. The desire of students to enter a wider and wider variety of careers led to our adding as years went on several specialized curricula—one in chemistry, one in commerce and finance, and so on. But the widening of the vocational horizon has continued beyond the range of our specialized curricula: there is a limit to the decentralization possible in a small college. The way out of this dilemma is fortunately not hard to find. In the first place, in order to emphasize the expanding value of Juniata to hundreds who attend each year, the College proposes to outline a series of undergraduate programs leading to upwards of twenty careers. In the other direction, the administration of the college is being centralized by dropping the "specialized curricula" as such. The departments which have developed those curricula will continue the same excellent courses and instruction in all of the special fields; the College will, however, return to the policy of giving just two degrees: bachelor of arts and bachelor of science.

Another change which will be widely approved, we believe, is a reduction in the number of "required" courses, thus permitting greater flexibility in order to meet the educational needs of each student. The first year is pretty well set for all students. This is particularly true in the first semester when every freshman begins a well-planned integration in the whole area of higher studies. A new introductory course in the mind and the psychology of learning, and three courses designed to provide an integration in the three new "Divisions of Study" will take most of the time during the first semester. The integration courses in particular are a most promising innovation. They include one in the fine arts and literature, one in the nature of civilization, and one in the nature of science and the scientific mind. They are designed not merely to give each student a whole view of a field of knowledge which he may later wish to study more in detail, but to encourage a sympathetic interest in types of study which, though they do not especially appeal to him, may be of vital interest to his fellow students. We have high hopes that the interest and enthusiasm rising from these new courses will mean much to the tone of the campus.

Another departure from tradition is the attitude which we propose to take towards the study of English composition and foreign languages. Competence in these studies, I think all will agree, is the main thing—not how many "hours" or how many courses we have had. We expect young men and women in college to take a natural and decent pride in expressing their ideas easily and correctly. The College will help them as much as necessary to meet a reasonable standard, and after they reach it they are free of any formal requirement. The course in freshman composition, with its classes, and recitations, and themes is to pass into limbo; and in its place instruction and guidance by members of the English department will aid students to improve their powers of expression. In foreign languages classes will be continued as before, but as soon as any student can demonstrate his ability to read with a standard facility, the College considers the minimum requirement fulfilled.

There are many other matters which the new catalog reveals. The catalog itself is entirely new, in print, cover, form, and content. Every effort has been made to have it reflect the elements of both tradition and change which have been so carefully planned during the last few months. For the first time in years, perhaps, the inspection of the catalog of his alma mater should be an event of keen interest to every Juniata alumnus. Juniata has been housecleaning and remodelling. You will be pleased with the improvements.

Seventy Students Are Candidates For Degrees At Annual Exercises

The Honorable John W. Kephart, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, will give the commencement address on Monday morning, June 6, when seventy students will be graduated with their bachelor's degree.

Justice Kephart is a native of Cambria County and still maintains his residence at its county seat, Ebensburg. After being graduated from Allegheny College and Dickinson Law School, he was admitted to the Pennsylvania Bar in 1894 and practiced his profession at Ebensburg. Elected to the Superior Court in 1914, Justice Kephart was elevated to the Supreme Court in 1919, becoming chief justice on January 6, 1936.

After his commencement address, he will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, an honor which has already been conferred on him by Allegheny and Dickinson.

The commencement exercises will be the culmination of activities which will begin with a concert by the Juniata College Orchestral Society on Friday evening, June 3, under the direction of Mr. S. Turner Jones. President Ellis will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Stone Church, and in the evening the Juniata College Choir, under the direction of Prof. Charles L. Rowland, will present Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation." The complete program may be noted by turning to the back cover.

For a number of years the trustees of the College have been convening in the afternoon after commencement to discuss in the quiet pervading the campus after all have left, problems significant to the on-going of the institution. This year their meeting's agenda will include further discussion of two important problems, the faculty retirement plan and the proposed auditorium building.

Alumni Activities Scheduled for June 4

Saturday, June 4, is predominantly Alumni Day on the program of activities for the 1938 commencement season. Beginning with the annual business meeting at 10:15 o'clock, the day's program also calls for a memorial program at 11:00, an alumni luncheon at noon, and class reunions at 5:00 o'clock.

Routine business, including the announcement of the results for the election of the association president, two vice-presidents, and a member of the executive committee, will occupy most of the business session.

This year's jubilee class, the class of 1888, will have charge of the program at 11:00 o'clock in memory of the late Dr. I. Harvey Brumbaugh. Noah J. Brumbaugh, formerly associated with the United States Patent Office, Washington, D. C., will preside, and two other of the four living members of the class, John B. Oller, of Garden City, N. Y., and Grace (Quinter) Holsopple, of Washington, D. C., will be present. At the conclusion of the service the class of 1927 will present an oil painting of Dr. Brumbaugh to the College.

At the alumni luncheon at noon Cletus A. Fisher '12AB, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, and Joseph V. Kline '13AB, of New York City, will make brief addresses. Henry B. Gibbel, president of the general alumni association, will preside. Representatives of each of the following classes, which have scheduled reunions for late afternoon, will be introduced 1888, —1893, 1898, 1903, 1908, 1913, and 1930. And finally the baby class, the class of 1938, will be received into membership.

In Memoriam

DR. ELMER LeROY CRAIK

Dr. Elmer LeRoy Craik, professor of history since 1924, died on Thursday morning, April 28, at Lawrence, Kansas, where he had gone to recuperate from a long illness. At the time of his death he was fifty-two years of age, his last birthday having been on March 7.

A graduate of McPherson College, Kansas, Dr. Craik held the master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Kansas. He is survived by his widow, the former Elva Miller, and three children: D. Warren '36BS, Eldon and Lois.

His many friends, to whom he was an inspiring teacher and a gracious gentleman, extend sympathy to his bereaved family.

Dr. van Ormer Honored At Beginning of Semester

Dr. A. B. Bunn van Ormer, professor of philosophy and education for more than twenty years, was made emeritus professor at the beginning of the second semester. Dr. van Ormer continues to meet the seminar in philosophy, but his class in Old Testament history is being taught by Rev. Cloyd W. Fields, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Huntingdon.

Dr. van Ormer's long career as a teacher began in a one-room public school in Bedford County. Later he went to New York City as a grammar school teacher. While there he studied at New York University and obtained the degree Doctor of Pedogogy, one of the first persons thus to be honored with that degree. Both Gettysburg College, his alma mater, and Susquehanna University have conferred upon him the honorary degree Doctor of Divinity.

For many years Dr. van Ormer has been a Lutheran clergyman. At present he is pastor of the Marklesburg-Saxton charge of that denomination.

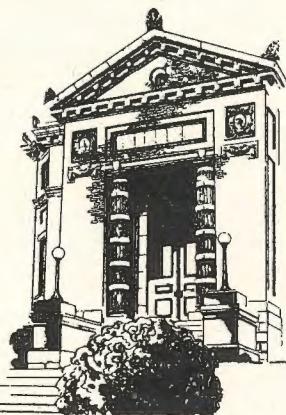

Examination Winners Announced

One hundred and eighty high school seniors from five states, forty more than last year and twenty more than ever before, were guests of Juniata on Saturday, April 23, for the annual competitive examination, on the basis of which eight scholarships have been awarded. In addition to these who were guests on the campus, twenty others took the examination in the senior high school at Camden, N. J. That there was such a splendid response is in large part due to the loyal efforts of many Juniata alumni in arousing interest in the examination and in bringing many of the students to Huntingdon for it.

The committee has made the following awards: two hundred dollars for each of four years to resident students—Lebanon Leiter, Waynesboro; Mary Kathryn, Collingswood, N. J.; and Jean E. Good, Youngstown, Ohio; one hundred and fifty dollars for each of four years to prospective resident students—Ruth E. Shaver, Altoona; Charles Haines, Madera; and Erma Alberta Shaffer, Philadelphia; one hundred dollars for each of four years to prospective day students—Jack A. Ayres, Huntingdon, and Louise Russel, Tyrone.

NYA Aid Helps Sixty-Nine This Year

Sixty-nine students are receiving financial aid for their education at Juniata this year through the National Youth Administration, which has allotted Juniata $4,860 for use in aiding needy students. The recipients perform services which the College could otherwise not afford in return for work paid for at hourly rates ranging from 25c to 40c.

Except for this aid the College would probably have sixty-nine fewer students this year and lack the service it has now received. Each applicant had to submit a budget showing a deficit which would have prevented him from going to college.

Juniata's portion is part of an allotment of $658,215 this year to 4,906 students in 88 colleges and universities of Pennsylvania.

Yoder Appointed Head of 1938 Summer Session

Prof. Paul R. Yoder, assistant professor of physics, has been appointed director of the 1938 summer session, which will begin for a nine-weeks period on Wednesday, June 15. Professor Yoder has been busy preparing for the session since his appointment in March.

Awards in Three Student Contests Made

Wednesday, April 6, will go down in Juniata's history as prize day of 1938, for on that day prizes in three student contests were awarded.

At chapel, Shelley Berkeley '38, Pittsburgh, son of Flora (Shelley) Berkeley '06 Acad, was awarded the first prize of $10 in the Hon. Joseph F. Biddle General Information Contest, conducted annually as a memorial to the late Mr. Biddle by his children, John H. Biddle '26 Ex, editor of The Daily News, Huntingdon, making the award. Shirley Gibbs '40, Jersey Shore, and Thomas McFadden '39, Milroy, tied for second place, each receiving $7.50. In 1937 McFadden won the first prize, and Berkeley the second. In 1936 Berkeley won first prize.

At the same chapel service prizes in a literary contest sponsored by the Juniatian were announced by Miss F. Josephine Biddle, of the Daily News staff, who was a member of the judging committee which also included Swirles L. Himes '27BS and Mrs. Maxwell W. Steel. Ives Harvey '40, Huntingdon, was awarded $5 for his short story, "The Man Who Lived Too Long," with Mary Stafford '38, Huntingdon, receiving honorable mention. For his essay, "Historic Facts and Customs of the Amish," William Oles '40, Lewistown, was awarded $5. James Amend '40, also of Lewistown, was given honorable mention for his poem "We Two Alone."

In the evening the annual John M. Bailey Oratorical Contest, the oldest of all Juniata's contests, was held. For her oration on "This Strange Interlude," Roberta Weyant '38, Tyrone, was awarded the first prize of $25. Charles Calvert Ellis '40, Baltimore, won the second prize of $15 for his defense of liberals entitled "Men Against the World." The judges were John H. Biddle, Prof. J. H. Neff, Superintendent of Huntingdon County schools, and W. J. Jones, director of education at the Pennsylvania Industrial School.

Track Team Captures Middle Atlantic Championship at Penn Relays

Donning warm-up suits as early as the first of March, the college trackmen began a long period of strenuous training. The team, captained by Dan Myers of Altoona, seemed anxious to equal the undefeated record of last year's squad.

In the usual manner the track season was opened with the intra-class meet, which found the juniors winning by a comfortable margin. But in spite of this, a sophomore, Jack Sheirer, stole the show when he broke the college discus record with a mighty heave of 125 feet 4 inches to beat his own record by one foot.

Five of the fastest men on the squad were selected to represent Juniata in the Penn Relays on Friday, April 29. The group covered themselves with glory when on the opening day they captured the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate AA championship for the mile relay. Chal Lesher of Huntingdon, Jake Dick of Pottstown, George Weber of Drexel Hill, and Don Snider of Waynesboro ran in that order to break the tape with the time of 3 minutes 27.9 seconds. Thus, the college came into possession of the Rodman Wanamaker loving cup for one year. The cup will go into the permanent possession of the team which wins the relay three times. A plaque carved by the late Dr. R. Tait McKenzie of the University of Pennsylvania was awarded to the college, while each of the individual runners received gold wrist watches.

On Saturday the quartet was faced with stiffer competition in the open college and university race. Although failing to cross the finish line first, the Blue and Gold runner was not far behind to clinch second position after a race which was four-tenths of a second slower than the preceding day. The boys were awarded silver medals in this race.

With the impetus of such a beginning, the track team should go far this year. The loss of three veterans who were always high point men last year will be keenly felt, although there is some promising material from the freshman class.

Netmen Garner First Victory in Two Years

Not to be outdone by the nine or tracksters the varsity tennis squad turned out promptly for practice as soon as weather permitted. Coach P. M. Snider took over the group upon the loss of last year's coach, Dr. Corry.

Under the supervision of Coach Snider and varsity manager Hugh Garner a schedule was worked out. After several weeks of earnest practice, the netmen met and defeated Elizabethtown 4 to 3 for the first tennis victory in two years. The Blue and Gold racquetees proved especially strong in the singles, but the match was not clinched until the first Juniata College doubles team was victorious over its opponents in a hard fought three-set series of play.

Middle Atlantic Champs

Baseball Team Hits Stride Early in Season

The mild winter and spring brought an early turnout of candidates for baseball and track. The pitching staff was the first group to begin drills in the gym. Soon the baseball diamond was put in shape and the nine, losing only three men from the previous season, began work outdoors. To find several starting pitchers was Coach Swartz's chief worry, the loss of Seiders and Hoover having put a big gap in the hurling department.

A southern trip was scheduled for the Easter vacation. A week of continuous rain prior to this trip kept the Indians idle and it was largely because of this that at Bridgewater and Washington (Md.) they were defeated. In the closing game of the jaunt, the Swartzmen found themselves and slugged their way to a 19 to 2 victory over Haverford.

In the first home engagement, Calb Roher, brilliant southpaw twirler shut out Elizabethtown 3 to 0. Besides driving in the initial tally, he struck out twenty opposing batters in short order.

If such effective pitching can be continued, the Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Baseball championship should return to the Juniata campus after an absence of five years. At present the Indians hold the top berth in the League with their clean sweep of victories over Ursinus, Drexel, and Albright. Muhlenberg, Gettysburg, and Lebanon Valley, all of whom have been defeated at least once, are yet to be encountered.

Captain Bob Jenkins is leading the team from the catcher's position. The hitting of the entire ball club has improved and the success will depend largely upon the pitching staff.

Local Associations Hold Annual Banquets in 18 Centers

New Association Formed in Clearfield-Center Counties

Twenty Juniatians and friends from Clearfield and Center Counties met in the Passmore Hotel, Philipsburg, on Thursday evening, February 24, to form a new local association. With Superintendent W. P. Evans '10AB, who spoke about the growth of the College library; George B. Clemens '36AB, who played his accordian; and the alumni secretary, Lewis S. Knepper '32AB, who brought greetings from other alumni associations.

Mrs. Florence (Hess) Woomelsdorf '30AB served as secretary in making all arrangements. The group elected the following officers: president, G. Herman Thrush '26BS; vice president, Wayne Rieman '33BS; secretary, Naomi (Trostle) Jones '28AB; assistant secretary, Dagmar Beck '34AB; and treasurer, Elsie Reed '09BS.

About eighty-five alumni and friends of Juniata met in the Manufacturers' and Bankers' Club of Philadelphia for their annual alumni dinner on Saturday evening, February 26. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Dr. Levering Tyson, President of Muhlenberg College. Roland L. Howe '94NE, who acted as toastmaster for the evening, very tactfully presented the speaker as well as all others who appeared on the program. Greetings were brought from the college and the alumni association by Dr. Norman J. Brumbaugh and Lewis S. Knepper, respectively. Henry R. Gibbel '26AB, represented the General Alumni Association of the college. Cyrus Caulton '29BS, was elected president for the coming year.

There were about thirty in attendance at the dinner.

Yoder Demonstrates How to Solicit Students

Alumni and friends of Juniata in Cambria County met for their eighteenth annual alumni dinner in the Moxham Church of the Brethren on Friday, April 22, with Dorsey G. Seese '27BS, president, as toastmaster. About forty were present. Miss Esther C. Hower '34AB played the piano, and Prof. J. W. Yoder led the group in songs of his own composition. He also delivered an address, demonstrating how he solicits for students for Juniata. George Clemens '36AB played several selections on his accordian. Lewis S. Knepper represented the general alumni association. Rev. D. Howard Keiper '24AB was elected president, and Mrs. Grace (Hoffman) Samuel, Secretary.

Waynesboro Sets Record With 150 Present

The seventeenth annual banquet of the Waynesboro Chapter of the Juniata College Alumni Association was held Tuesday evening, April 26, at the Anthony Wayne Hotel. Approximately 150 students, friends and alumni of the college were present. This was the largest group of its kind to meet this year. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Levi K. Zeigler '29AB. Dinner music was furnished by Miss F. Louise Smith and some of the members of the Waynesboro High School Orchestra. The president, Miss Pauline Kauffman '35AB, conducted a brief business session at which time she was re-elected as president and Miss Pauline Stoner '35AB as secretary. Other officers included six honorary vice-presidents. Donovan R. Beachley '19Ex presided as toastmaster. The program included vocal solos by Lorma Ruble and Gabriel Chiodo and a duet by them with Melba Kline at the piano, a whistling solo by Dean Edith Spencer, and an address by Dr. Calvert N. Ellis, who spoke on the future of Juniata. Rev. A. M. Dixon '15Ex pronounced the benediction.
